This is a great opportunity to meet face-to-face with more than 3,000 decision makers who have the need and budgets for your products, services and technologies.

Top of the Profession – ACA membership reaches more than 20,000 corrections professionals

More than $70 billion was spent by local, state and federal governments for corrections in 2007

What is ACA?

Founded in 1870 as the National Prison Association, the American Correctional Association (ACA) is the oldest and largest correctional association developed specially for practitioners in the corrections profession. ACA represents more than 20,000 active professional members. The membership consists of individuals and organizations involved in all facets of corrections, including adult and juvenile institutions, community corrections, juvenile justice, health care, probation and parole located in the United States, Canada and other nations. ACA is the leader in the improvement of corrections and the professional development of experts in the field.

The Association provides its members with educational materials, publications, training courses, seminars, biannual conferences, accreditation services and a variety of other networking opportunities, not to mention Corrections Today magazine and discount programs. Working toward a unified voice in correctional policy, ACA has been actively involved in:

- Developing national correctional philosophy;
- Designing and implementing standards for correctional services and methods for measuring compliance; and
- Providing publications, training and technical assistance.

ACA's Mission Statement

The mission of the Association is to exert a positive influence on national correctional policy and to promote the professional development of individuals working in all aspects of the corrections field. Our primary purpose is to be of service to both the field and to our members.

Special Invitation to Treatment Providers

Lunched in 2007 at the Winter Conference in Tampa, Florida, the Healthcare Professional Interest Section (H-PIS) of ACA brings together health care practitioners and providers with correctional leaders and security professionals to examine important health care and treatment issues relevant to the corrections field, and to improve communications and operations for all facets of corrections.

ACA is the only organization in the nation that is working with correctional treatment and security professionals toward common goals – quality training and open dialogue. Many workshops, special events, social activities and meetings are planned for H-PIS members at the 139th Congress of Correction.

Please join ACA at the Gaylord Opryland Resort and participate in this important program with local, state and federal corrections professionals, representing all aspects of the field, to help improve your services, protect the public, and prepare women and men for release back into society.
